

Newsletter from Poppies 1 and 2

Welcome to the latest news from the Poppies. The time has passed by so fast and we just can't believe our Poppies have come to the last quarter of their kindergarten year. The children are getting ready for their school next year and they are learning the necessary skills for a smooth start in their prep year.

We have been very busy this month learning about sustainability. We started using recycled material for our art activities. We used empty milk bottles, newspaper, fabric and many other recycled materials for our painting.

We were very lucky to learn about this very important topic with a performance by a group of percenters. This very interactive and interesting presentation taught us how to keep our environment safe by using different recycling methods.

The highlight of the month was the Father's Day celebrations. The children worked hard to practice two songs to say thank you to their fantastic fathers. A big thank you for all the families who participated to make this event memorable for our children.

A quick reminder for the parents about the "transition to school" papers just handed out and please return them to us when you have finished.

We are also in the process of making our transition reports for their chosen schools and will be handed out next month to the parents. Well that's all from us for now and until next month happy learning and keep smiling! 😊

Miss Aman from Poppies One has been successful in employment at the local Warrigal Road State School, so Jas will be taking this role. Jas has numerous years experience in the Kindergarten room and is undertaking further studies to become a registered teacher. Anila from Poppies Two will oversee the program and ensure the kindergarten children continue to blossom!
